About The Author

Hi, my name is Paula Brett and I live in the London suburbs with my husband, who is a landscape gardener, and our two small sons.

I originally trained as an actress and was beginning to build a successful TV, Radio and Theatre career when I needed to put it all on hold for a while to be at home with my boys. As both endeavors are pretty much an all-or-nothing undertaking, obviously my sons took precedence. Not being one to relish spending my time cooking and cleaning, I kept my brain active by entering the crazy world of internet marketing and that was it -- hooked!

Like many, I began my foray into IM by selling physical items on eBay but the daily trek to the post-office, dragging heavy sacks and enduring filthy looks from menacing pensioners for holding up the queue for hours soon became as mind-numbingly boring as the cooking and cleaning. Enter the lure of digital products and John Thornhill of PlanetSMS fame.

My initial time on John's PlanetSMS forum was an eye-opener, I was as green as they come, but determined to learn. And I did. Now I am a Moderator on the forum, which boasts a large proportion of `newbies' to IM. I remember vividly how bewildering it all was for me when I first started so I am happy to help any Members who ask to get their businesses up and running in any way I can.

I greatly enjoy forum life, and communicating with other marketers and I certainly wouldn't be doing what I am today without the help and advice these interactions provide.

I now make a living installing scripts (mainly DLGuard, EW Portal and MyDD), creating voice-over video promotional guides and instruction manuals for products and, of course, writing my own `Take-Me-By-The-Hand" step-by-step eBooks.

Most recently, in May 2007, internet marketer Dan Thompson and I set up D9 Hosting.

Because we had both worked extensively with newcomers to IM, and had witnessed how little support they were receiving from hosting companies in general, we felt that there was a gap in the market for a hosting company that understands the needs and concerns of internet marketers and, most especially, beginners. We wanted to provide uncomplicated hosting, lots of tutorials, excellent support and great prices.

We're very pleased with the response so far, and we're delighted to have the endorsement of John Thornhill. We've attracted a pretty fantastic bunch of Clients and our services are expanding as their needs grows.

Introduction

This report assumes that you have already installed your PlanetSMS eBook website on your webspace.

If you haven't installed your website yet, you can find details on how to do so in the PlanetSMS Members Area here

<http://www.planetsmsmembers.com/planet-e-books-members/>

You will need your login details to gain access, these will have been sent to you by John Thornhill when you purchased your package.

If you're not comfortable installing the website yourself, you can have it auto-installed for you by D9 Hosting (again, find details about this special offer in your PlanetSMS welcome pack)

This report is not intended to replace any of the excellent guidance already available in the admin area of your new website. It is meant to be used alongside this guidance, to enhance your understanding of the setup.

So, lets get on with getting your eBook business up and running...

Your Admin Panel

After you have installed your website or had it installed for you, go to your browser and type in your admin url (the website address of your admin panel). It will look something like this...

<http://www.yourdomain.com/admin> (replace yourdomain.com with your own domain name)

Admin Control Panel

Log into your admin panel with your chosen username and password.

You will then see this page (above)

Your default username will be the word test and your password will also be the word test Once you enter these and login in you will have the opportunity to change these.

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

Your Admin Control Panel can be referred to as the `back-end' of your website, the backstage area – your customers will not have access to this area.

The main shop face of your website, or the front-end, is the aspect that your customers will see.

Whilst you are working through these sections, it might be a good idea to have two browser tabs open, one showing the back-end, your admin panel e.g.

<http://www.yourdomain.com/admin> and one showing the front-end, your website shop front e.g. <http://www.yourdomain.com>

In your Admin Control Panel, you will see all your edit links on the left-hand side

Admin Control Panel

This is your admin panel where you edit your site

Welcome To Your Admin Setup

Welcome to the PlanetSMS Ebook Website Admin Panel™

On the left hand side of the Admin Panel you will find your website setup contents. You now need to click on each section and enter your details. You will find on each page a question mark icon. If you are unsure about any part of the content setup click the question mark symbol, which will give you additional helpful information.

Please read the website Terms and Conditions before you proceed.

If you have any further questions please contact the PlanetSMS Help Desk.

Don't be afraid of experimenting with your website settings, to familiarise yourself with the admin panel. All instances can be reversed back to their original state.

Keep up to date with new additions and free updates by registering to receive important updates here.

Here are all your settings

You will also see, dotted throughout each section of the Admin area, small, blue question mark icons (?) which, when clicked, will explain functions in more detail. Don't forget to make use of these, as they are very good!

If you get stuck on any aspect, you can always contact the PlanetSMS Help Desk but it's always a good idea to check out the PlanetSMS Forum first, as there are a lot of knowledgeable people there who are all very willing to help. Don't be afraid to post, no question is too stupid and most of them have all been asked before!

In the following chapters, we're going to work our way through all the links down the left-hand column and enter all your personalised details to really make the eBook website your own.

Admin Settings

In this section, you are going to reset the default username and password so they will no longer be test and test.

It is important that you remember what these are, so make a note of them and keep them safe.

The screenshot shows the 'Admin Control Panel' interface. On the left is a navigation menu with options: Home, Standard Settings (expanded), Admin Settings, Personal Settings, Basic Settings, S.E.O Settings, Theme Settings, Adsense Settings, Clickbank Settings, and Aweber Settings. The main content area is titled 'Admin Settings' and contains a form for updating the administrator's credentials. The form includes a 'Username' field and a 'Password' field, both with eye icons for visibility. A 'Save Admin Settings' button is located at the bottom of the form. Two yellow callout boxes are overlaid on the image: one on the left says 'Don't forget to SAVE' and one on the right says 'Choose a memorable username and password and make a note of these somewhere safe'. The background of the panel features a dark blue header with white stars and a light blue arrow pointing up and right.

If you lose your username and password, the only way you can find them is to login to your webspace via ftp, click on the admin folder, click on the settings folder, download the admin_settings .txt file
In this file you will find your username & password like this test#_1_#test

If you do not know how to access your webspace via FTP you can download a free step-by-step guide by clicking HERE

Personal Settings

In this section you will need to add your full name and your contact email address.

Insert the email address you wish your customers to contact you on

Your contact email address is the email address you wish to use for your customers to contact you.

This email address will be associated with your contact page on your website.

Your contact page has a form for your customer to fill in, this form format will help to cut down on spam

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

The image shows a screenshot of a website's contact form. At the top, there are navigation buttons for Home, eBooks, Audio Books, and Contact. The contact form itself is titled 'Contact Us' and contains the following text: 'If you feel you need to contact us about... email us using the... Please check out our FAQ section before emailing... been answered, this will save... Please keep your emails as short and precise as... everybody's time...'. Below this text are three input fields: 'Your Name:', 'Your Email:', and 'Mail Message:'. A 'Send Mail' button is located at the bottom of the form. To the left of the form is a 'Site Navigation' menu with links to Home, eBooks, Audio Books, Contact, and FAQ. Below that is an 'eBook Search' box with a search button. Further down is a 'Site Categories' section with links to Computers and Education. To the right of the form are two 'Links and Offers' sections. A large yellow callout bubble with red text is overlaid on the form, stating: 'It's harder for spambots to send you spam when you have a contact form and your email address is not visible'.

You can change the actual text on this page later on in the Advanced Section

On the left is a sidebar menu with options like Home, Standard Settings, Admin Settings, Personal Settings, Basic Settings, S.E.O Settings, Theme Settings, AdSense Settings, Clickbank Settings, Aweber Settings, and Paypal Settings. The main area contains several text input fields: 'Your Website Header Title', 'Your Website Sub Header', 'Your Website Footer Text', and 'Your Audio Book World Online Affiliate ID'. Each field has a '0 characters entered' label and a help icon. Below these is a checkbox for 'Display Powered By Link' which is checked. A 'Save Basic Website Settings' button is at the bottom. Two large yellow arrows point from the 'Display Powered By Link' checkbox towards the bottom right of the page.

In a later section, we will be adding your ClickBank ID. If a visitor to your site clicks on this Powered By link, and they purchase John's package, you will receive a Clickbank commission. You can turn this feature off if you wish.

Don't forget to SAVE YOUR SETTINGS

S.E.O Settings

S.E.O. is an acronym for Search Engine Optimization.

SEO is a huge subject so I will not try to explain it here. However, you do need a title for your website for the search engines, you need a description of your website and you also need to add a few keywords for search purposes.

Search Engine Optimization Website Settings

If at any time you need help with any part simply click on the  icon next to the part you are unsure of to show/hide more information.

Your Website Page Title (for S.E.O purposes):

Your Website Description (for S.E.O purposes):

Your Website Key Words (for S.E.O purposes):

I would strongly urge you to click on the small, blue question mark (?) icons on this page, as the explanations are excellent and will help you along

The changes on this page will show in the HTML coding of your site.

If you would like to see this in action, go to the other browser that you have open, with the front-end of your site (don't close your admin panel browser), right click with your mouse on your home page, select view source code and you will see all the HTML code pop up. You will see your website title, your description and your keywords – these are what the search engine robots read.

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

The code you will see will look similar to this

<html>
<head>
<meta http-equiv="Content-Type" content="text/html; charset=iso-8859-1">
<meta http-equiv="Content-Language" content="en-gb">

AdSense Settings

Google AdSense ads are the adverts that you often see on websites, like the example below

When a visitor to your site clicks on these ads, you make a commission, which you will see register in your Google AdSense account. Your site visitor does not have to purchase anything from you to make a commission, you are paid per click!

You can sign up for a Google AdSense account here. However, if you don't want Google AdSense ads on your website, simply uncheck the box WARNING: You should NEVER click on your own Google Ads. Google are very hot on this and can track your clicks. They can and will suspend your account and it's highly unlikely that you will get it back. Neither should you encourage your friends to click your ads constantly. Again, too many clicks from the same location can get your account terminated.

There is a very slim possibility that for reasons best known to themselves Google will turn you down for an account. Don't worry, this is easily worked around. Simply go to www.blogger.com, set up a free blog and make a few posts, you can apply for your AdSense account from Blogger.

Once you have your account, you can use your pub-code for any and all of your websites, you don't need to have a separate account for each website.

On this page you are going to insert your ClickBank username/nickname.

On the home page of your website you will see a section called Latest Premium eBooks. These products are products that are sold through a 3rd Party.

You do not have these products uploaded to your webspace. However, the View More >> links lead to the product's sales page. This link is embedded with your ClickBank nickname, which means that if someone clicks one of these links on your website and goes on to purchase, your ClickBank account will be credited with a commission.

The screenshot displays a website layout with several key sections:

- Left Sidebar: Includes a form for Name and Email with a Submit button, an eBook Search box, and a Site Categories menu listing items like Computers, Education, Food & Drink, Games, Health & Beauty, Hobbies & Recreation, Home & Family, Internet Marketing, and Internet Marketing (adsense).
- Main Content Area: Titled "Latest Premium eBooks", it features a grid of product listings. Each listing includes a book cover, a title, a brief description, and a "View More >>" link. Products shown include "Resale Rights Roadmap", "Resale Rights Blueprint", "Digital Media Solution", "Resale Rights Bootcamp", "Write an eBook in 7 Days", "Sky High Auctions", "Paid Surveys", and "Auction Profit Streams 2.0". Large yellow arrows are overlaid on the page, pointing to the "View More >>" links.
- Right Sidebar: Titled "Links and Offers", it contains "Ads by Google" and several promotional links such as "How I earn £14,577 a week", "Paula Make the Most of Your Vacation", and "Ac Palacio De Santa Paula".

You do not have to worry about taking payment for these products, nor delivering them. This is all taken care of through ClickBank, all you are interested in is securing a commission.

Aweber Settings

Aweber is a paid autoresponder service and are probably the top autoresponder service on the net. With an Aweber account you can create and manage as many mailing lists as you wish.

Building a list of subscribers is vital to your business and this great eBook website script is especially designed to integrate with Aweber.

If you don't already have an Aweber account, this page might seem a bit daunting to you. However, if you decide to open an account, then the required elements for this page will fall into place fairly easily.

If you are a bit confused by it all, I can highly recommend a set of videos that I purchased a little while back which are absolutely amazing called Aweber Unleashed - you can check out my review on my blog here

<http://paula-brett.com/blog/aweber-backstage-behind-the-scenes/>

Once you have inserted the details gleaned from your Aweber account, you can see the sign up box appear on the front end of your eBook website

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

Of course, if you don't have an account, or you're not quite ready to sign up for one, you can just un-check the box at the bottom of this page, to omit the form

If at any time you need help with any part simply click on the  icon next to the part you are unsure of to show/hide more information.

What is Aweber?

Your mailing list is a very important part of your website. You can use Aweber to collect email addresses in a secure database, which will allow your visitors to Double Opt-in to your subscriber list, which will allow you to send them broadcast and predefined email responses.

Aweber will allow you to securely and safely, send emails to your subscriber list without fear of spam complaints. These emails can include any website updates, product offers, sales, news, tips and so on.

This is a highly recommended service and we urge you not to ignore this section.

PayPal Settings

On this page you are going to add your payment settings for your eBooks. The information you supply here will be embedded in the coding of your PayPal payment button and when directed to make a payment, all the correct information will appear to your customer.

In the first box you can choose single purchase (Buy It Now) or Add to Cart (several purchases in a shopping cart) from the drop down menu

The screenshot shows the 'Paypal Settings' configuration page. On the left is a sidebar with a tree view of settings categories: Home, Standard Settings (expanded), Admin Settings, Personal Settings, Basic Settings, S.E.O Settings, Theme Settings, Adsense Settings, Clickbank Settings, Aweber Settings, Paypal Settings (selected), Advanced Settings, and Add/Remove Categories. The main content area is titled 'Paypal Settings' and includes a help tip: 'If at any time you need help with any part simply click on the ? icon next to the part you are unsure of to show/hide more information.' Below this are several settings: 'Payment Button Type' with a dropdown menu set to 'Buy Now' and a help icon; 'Paypal Email' with a text input field and a help icon; 'Default Price' with a text input field, a help icon, and a checkbox labeled 'Use this price for ALL ebooks'; 'Currency' with a dropdown menu and a help icon; and 'Default Thank You Page URL' with a text input field, a help icon, and a checkbox labeled 'Use this URL for all pages.'. At the bottom center is a 'Save Paypal Settings' button. A yellow callout bubble with red text says 'Choose from Buy It Now or Add to Cart' pointing to the 'Payment Button Type' dropdown.

However, it's important to know that if someone does buy more than one item from your website, they may pay for them all together but currently the script cannot handle delivering more than one download link to the customer. This means that only one link for one product will be delivered.

It might be wise, to avoid confusion, for you to choose the Buy Now option. In general, if a customer wants to purchase more than one item, they don't mind going through the payment procedure again. Of course, if you are happy to deal with a customer who emails you to say they only got one item, then great, use the Add To Cart option.

In the next box, you will need to add your PayPal email address. If you don't have a PayPal account you can sign up for one here

The screenshot shows the 'Paypal Settings' page. On the left is a navigation menu with the following items: Home, Standard Settings (expanded), Admin Settings, Personal Settings, Basic Settings, S.E.O Settings, Theme Settings, AdSense Settings, Clickbank Settings, Aweber Settings, PayPal Settings, Advanced Settings (expanded), and Add/Remove Categories. - Default Price: (text input field)
- Use this price for ALL ebooks: (checkbox)
- Default Thank You: (text input field)
- Use this URL for all pages: (checkbox)
- Save Paypal Settings (button)

A yellow callout bubble with the text 'Add your PayPal email address here' is overlaid on the 'Paypal Email' input field.

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

In the next box, you will add the default price that you want to set for your eBooks. This means that if you check the box, all your eBooks will be set at this price.

However, if you want to set different eBooks at different prices, you can do this later in the Advanced Settings section.

The image shows a screenshot of the 'Paypal Settings' page in the PlanetSMS control panel. On the left is a navigation menu with options like Home, Standard Settings, Admin Settings, Personal Settings, Basic Settings, S.E.O Settings, Theme Settings, AdSense Settings, Clickbank Settings, Aweber Settings, PayPal Settings, Advanced Settings, and Add/Remove Categories. The main content area is titled 'Paypal Settings' and contains several form fields: 'Payment Button Type' (set to 'Buy Now'), 'Paypal Email', 'Default Price', 'Currency', and 'Default Thumbnail'. A yellow callout bubble with the text 'Add your default ebook price here' points to the 'Default Price' input field. A yellow arrow points from the callout to a checkbox labeled 'Use this price for ALL ebooks'. Another checkbox labeled 'Use this URL for all pages.' is visible to the right. A help icon is present next to the 'Default Price' field.

Finally, we need to deal with your Thank You page. This is the page that your customers are directed to immediately after payment. They will be directed from their PayPal account, so this url of your thank you page will be embedded in the coding of your PayPal button.

The default thank you page that comes with this package is called thank_you.php and it looks like this

You will see that the text reassures your customer that their payment has been received; thanks them for their purchase; tells them that their product link has been emailed to them and instructs them on how to contact you if there are any problems.

You can change the wording of this page further on in the Advanced Settings section. You can also create individual thank you pages for each product – again, you can do this in later in the advanced section.

You will see that there is also a link to John's PlanetSMS package on the default thank you page. This is again embedded with your ClickBank affiliate link, so if your customer clicks on this link and buys, you get a commission.

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

The url for the default thank you page is http://www.yourdomain.com/thank_you.php (where yourdomain.com is replaced with your own domain name) so this is what you type in the box

You can check the Use this URL for all pages box if you want to use the same thank you page for all your products. However, as mentioned, you can create an individual thank you page for each product and insert it a bit later on, in the Advanced Settings section.

Checking this box, will override any individual thank you pages created later on, however.

Again, don't forget to SAVE YOUR SETTINGS.

Add/Remove Categories

This next section deals with the categories on your website. All your eBooks are placed in various categories and you can add new categories and remove categories you're not too keen on simply and easily.

Here are what the default categories currently look like on the front end of your eBook shop on the left-hand side

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

OK, so to create a new category, you need to enter the name of your new category, as you would wish it to be seen on the front end of your site.

The screenshot displays the 'Add New Category' form in the PlanetSMS website editor. On the left is a sidebar menu with options like 'S.E.O Settings', 'Theme Settings', 'Advanced Settings', and 'Add/Remove Categories'. The main form area contains the following elements:

- Text: 'Enter a Name For Your New Category As You Would Like It To Be Seen:' followed by a globe icon.
- Input field: An empty text box for the category name.
- Text: 'Name For Your New Category Page' followed by a globe icon.
- Input field: An empty text box for the category page name.
- Button: 'Add New Category'.
- Text: 'Remove a Category' followed by a globe icon.
- Dropdown menu: A list of existing categories including 'Computers', 'Education', 'Food & Drink', 'Games', 'Health & Beauty', and 'Hobbies & Recreation'.
- Button: 'Remove a Category'.

A yellow callout bubble with red text is overlaid on the first input field, stating: Enter the name of your new category here. It should be how you want it to be seen on your site.

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

So, we've just got one more thing to complete, create the category page...

The screenshot shows a sidebar on the left with a menu of settings: S.E.O Settings, Theme Settings, AdSense Settings, Clickbank Settings, Aweber Settings, Paypal Settings, Advanced Settings (expanded), Add/Remove Categories, Add/Remove eBook Pages, Edit eBook Pages, Add/Remove Main Pages, and Edit Main Pages. The main content area is titled 'Enter a Name For Your New Category As You Would Like It To Be Seen:' and contains an empty text input box. Below this is another section titled 'Enter a Name For Your New Category Page' with another empty text input box. A yellow callout bubble points to the second input box with the text: 'Enter the name for your new page. No spaces simply _ or - separating the words'. Below the second input box is an 'Add New Category' button. Further down, there is a 'Category' dropdown menu and a 'Remove a Category' button.

Here, you can just call the page exactly the same as you called your new category only you need to separate each word with either an underscore _ or a hyphen -

e.g. Your category is called blah blah, so your page should be called blah_blah or blah-blah; your category is called Food and Drink, so your category page should be called Food_and_Drink or Food-and-Drink (the script will automatically add .html on the end)

Once you have filled in both of these boxes, click on the Add New Category button.

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

Once clicked, the clever script that this website is built around will automatically create a new folder within your website's eBook_categories folder on your webspace with a name corresponding to that which you put in the second box.

Your new category called blah blah now has a shiny new folder on your webspace, and when you add eBooks to this category, the page will automatically be placed in the blah_blah folder. Clever, huh?

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

The final function that this page takes care of is removing those categories that you're not happy with...

Simply scroll and find the category that's getting the boot, click on it to highlight it, then click on the remove category button.

DONE!

Add/Remove eBook Pages

This is the section that you can add new eBook pages and remove the pages of eBook products that you don't want to have on your site.

So here's the scenario, you get hold of this fantastic new eBook; you have the resell rights, master resell rights (MRR) or private label rights (PLR) to it (if you're not sure what MRR and PLR is you can download my free report here) and you want to add this great new eBook to your website...

So, in the first box you need to type in the name of your new eBook page. As this will be a web page, you need to use a hyphen - or an underscore _ to separate each word

e.g. my_great_new_product or my-great-new-product . This page will automatically be created on your workspace

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

Next, you need to select the category that you want your new eBook to appear in

Enter a Name For Your eBook Page:

Select a Category For Your eBook Page:

Remove an eBook Page

- tips_from_a_resell_rights_junkie_ebook.html
- natural_beauty_tips_ebook.html
- smart_ftp_ebook.html
- adsense_revenue_exposed_ebook.html
- 15_of_the_biggest_1M_questions_ebook.html
- 17_skills_every_resale_rights_newbie_needs_ebook.html
- the_miracle_reports_ebook.html
- auto_responder_magic_ebook.html
- haku_estate_tips_ebook.html

Once you've done this, don't forget to click the Add New eBook Page button

Your eBook sales page has now been automatically added by the script to a folder on your webspace called eBook_pages and also the page has been added to the relevant category folder in the eBook_categories folder on your webspace.

Don't worry about editing this page with all your product details, this will come shortly in another section.

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

The final function on this page, Remove an eBook Page, is where you can remove any eBooks that you don't wish to sell on your website

Simply select the eBook page that you wish to remove from your site, it will appear highlighted and then click the Remove an eBook Page button

Remember, though, that once you remove pages and categories, they are gone forever from your webspace and you will need to create them again if you later change your mind.

DONE

Edit eBook Pages

In this section we are going to edit the sales page of an eBook product on your website. This is where you will also add all the details of the new eBook that you added to your website in the last section.

Select the eBook page you wish to edit from the dropdown menu. You will also find the eBook page you created in the last section in this menu

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

As soon as you select your page, the screen will refresh and you will see all the details of the product sales page

Title:

I just created a random eBook product page called dfsds to demonstrate what you will see with your newly created product page! There will be no product picture, title or description and this is the page where you will add these

So if we begin with the image box – this is where you change the product image, or add your image for your new product.

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

Click on the browser button and you should get a pop-up box appear with all the folders and directories on your computer. In my example below, my My Pictures folder pops up by default, it may be different for you, but you can find your image by using the drop down menu and searching your computer files for where you saved it

Once you've located your image, double click it and the path to this image will appear in the Browse box -it will look similar to this

u:\Documents and Settings\Paula\My Documents\My Pictures\logo.jpg

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

Next we are going to add a short description. This you will do in the WYSIWYG (What You See Is What You Get) HTML editor. The brief description is what the customer will see at the top of the sales page on your website (as demonstrated a couple of pictures back)

If you're not conversant with HTML coding, don't worry... just type in your brief description of your eBook in the short description box.

You can choose your font, font size, use bold, italic and underline, just as you would do in your favourite word-processing program. Take a good look, you are sure to recognise many of the functions.

Similarly, when you have done this, you can add your more detailed description of your eBook in the next box down entitled Details:

If you're not creating a new product, but just editing, go ahead and change things in these boxes to your suit your own needs.

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

Next we're going to move onto adding your individual eBook price.

Here is where you get to choose how much you want to sell your product for. What you insert here will be embedded automatically in your PayPal payment button and will also appear on your sales page for your customer to see.

Individual eBook Price:

Your Zip File for the Added eBook:

Your Custom Thank-You Page:

Note: Remember that if you inserted a default price and checked the Use this price for ALL eBooks box in the PayPal Settings section, the price you add now on this page, will be over-ridden by your default price. If you want to give all your eBooks individual prices, you should uncheck this box and insert your individual prices in this Edit eBook Website Pages section.

In the next box, you need to tell the script where your product can be found.

If you select one of the existing product pages (not the new one you are just creating) you will see the name of that product's zip file. e.g. catch_fish_eBook.zip

All your products are `zipped up' to make them a manageable size to upload to, and download from, your webspace.

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

All your products' zip files are stored in a folder called downloads on your webspace. Thus if you are adding a new eBook to your website, you should ideally zip it up and upload it to the downloads folder.

To zip a product up, the simplest way is to move the product to your desktop on your computer, then:

1. right click with you mouse on a blank space on your computer's desktop
2. select New
3. select zip or zip file or similar (each computer may word it differently)
4. you will then see a new zip file appear on your desktop
5. right click on this zip file and give it a name, use hyphens (-) or underscores (_) to separate words
6. now drag your product into your new zip file
7. You will now need to upload this zip file to your downloads folder on your webspace

Once you have uploaded your new product, type the name of the zip file in the box called New Zip File for the Added eBook box

e.g. my_added_book.zip or my-added-book.zip

Note: although you may have called your zip file, say, my_added_book , you NEED to add .zip onto the end of it for the purposes of filling out this box

Next we get to the Add You Own Customer Thank You Page box. Do you remember we talked about this in a previous section?

You can either use the default thank you page, which you can find at www.yourdomain.com/thank_you.php (see previous section for this). If you choose the default thank you page, you do not need to fill out the box on this page, you will already have checked the default thank you page box in the previous section.

However, you can create your own thank you page for each item you sell if you wish. All you need to do is create it in an HTML editor (you can download a free HTML editor at either www.nvu.com or www.trellian.com)

Once you have created your thank you page, upload it to your webspace, it doesn't need to go in one of the folders, you can just upload it to your root directory/public_html folder (the folder that your website is in)

Then simply insert the url of this new thank you page in the box
e.g. http://www.mydomain.com/my_new_thankyou_page.html

Don't forget to SAVE YOUR PAGE

Add/Remove Main Pages

In this section you will be able to create new `main' pages (not sales pages) and remove those pages that you do not wish to have on your site.

When you create a new `main' page, a button will be created on the front end of your website. When this button is clicked it will be linked to your new main page. We will get to this further on.

For now, you need to name your new `main' page. This should be done in the same way as pages have been made previously, using an underscore _ or hyphen - to separate words.

You can also remove a main page that you want to lose from your site by selecting the page from the dropdown menu, highlighting it and clicking on the Remove a Main Page button

Edit Main Pages

In this section you can edit the look of your main pages, including the main page you just created in the previous section

Here's the page I created in the previous section

Please Select a Page To Edit:

Page Title As You Would Like It To Be Seen (used for buttons and navigation links):

Enter Content For Your Page:

Paragraph Font Name Size B I U E A H H+ H- → ←

Paula Brett's Guide to Editing Your PlanetSMS eBook Website

In the next box, you will add your page title. This is what will appear on the new navigation button that the script will create for the front end of your website – so don't make it too long-winded or else your link button will be massive!

Next, you can go on to adding some text to your new page (or editing the text on an existing page)

Don't forget to save your page.

Take a look at the front end of your website and click on your new navigation button to link to your new new `main' page

Additional Content

This section is pretty self explanatory if you make good use of the little blue question mark (?) icons

Here you can add additional content and ads to boxes located in the left- and right-hand columns of your website.

Each WYSIWYG editor section pertains to a different area of your front- end website. Clicking on the blue question mark icon before each section will show you where each section of text will appear on your website

You can also edit your welcome message that appears on your home page

As well as the text that appears on your contact page and your default thank you page.

Don't forget to SAVE YOUR SETTINGS

Check For Updates

Don't forget to check for updates of your website script. You can do so on this page.

Your script version will be displayed e.g. Version 1.2 and there's a link to download the latest version if you are told you are not currently using the latest version.

You can also sign up to be emailed details of any updates.

Product Delivery

You may be wondering, after doing all this editing, how exactly you are going to deliver your eBooks to your customers.

Well, another great function of this website is that the script actually sends out an email to your customer, thanking them for their purchase and giving them the download link of the product they have just purchased. This is all instant, so as soon as your customer pays, the email is sent to them.

You may, occasionally, get an email from a customer telling you that they didn't get an email. This will most likely be because their internet service provider's spam filters have directed your email to their spam/trash folder.

It may be worth adding this small piece of information to your thank you page e.g. Your ebook will be delivered via email to your PayPal email address, please check your spam/trash folder if you do not receive your email.

If you do need to send a manual email to your customer with the link to the product they purchase, the link will look something like this

http://www.yourdomain.com/downloads/name_of_ebook.zip

Remember, earlier I told you that all your eBooks are stored in your downloads folder on your webspace?

It might be a good idea to check out the downloads folder and copy and paste the names of all the eBook zip files to a text file to store on your desktop. This way, if you need to send something out manually you can just replace the red section in the above url with the relevant zip file name

Unfortunately, this latest version of the script will not work with auto-delivery programs such as MyDD, DLGuard and EW Portal – this is because you have to use payment buttons generated by these programs on your sales pages. However, it is entirely possible that in the future auto-delivery programs may be integrated with the eBook website. This is why it is important that you sign up for updates and new functions added.

Do not despair if you have already purchased one of the above auto-delivery programs, I'm sure you will have other websites now and in the future where you will need to deliver your products to your customers, so I have no doubt that your purchase will be put to good use.
